02 The solution to paper receipts

The solution I found to fix this issue is to create a system where the user can receive their receipt digitally at the most convenient time, the point of purchase, with your phone. This not only makes the retrieval of the receipt more efficient and convenient but also removes the need for paper usage.

This solution is the best way to remove paper receipts because it not only removes paper from the equation but also gives the user an analytical insight into their spending.

This is also a novel idea as it hasn't been done in this way before Receipto.
